Certificate III in Individual Support (Home and Community)

training—where knowledge + health meet

AMA Skills Training is a business unit of Australian Medical Association (South Australia) Inc., which is the peak representative body for the medical profession formed in 1879. AMA Skills Training is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO No. 40880) under ASQA Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015.

We were established to develop and deliver training specifically for the Primary Health Care sector and to issue parchments/certificates and statements of attainment for nationally accredited qualifications and units of competency.

All our courses are based on a blended delivery:-

- face to face
- self paced learning
- workplace learning
- webinars
- online
- RPL

Our flexible delivery focuses on practical components of study as well as real work situations with choices of delivery times.

Our delivery staff include members of the Health workforce who are practitioners with extensive and current experience in the health Industry.

Course Description

This qualification reflects the role of workers in the community and/or residential setting who follow an individualised plan to provide person-centred support to people who may require support due to ageing, disability or some other reason. Work involves using discretion and judgement in relation to individual support as well as taking responsibility for own outputs. Workers have a range of factual, technical and procedural knowledge, as well as some theoretical knowledge of the concepts and practices required to provide person-centred support.

To achieve this qualification, the candidate must have completed at least 120 hours of work as detailed in the Assessment Requirements of the units of competency.
