

Medication Awareness

training—where knowledge + health meet

AMA Skills Training is a business unit of Australian Medical Association (South Australia) Inc., which is the peak representative body for the medical profession formed in 1879. AMA Skills Training is a Registered Training Organisation (RTO No. 40880) under ASQA Standards for Registered Training Organisations (RTOs) 2015.

We were established to develop and deliver training specifically for the Primary Health Care sector and to issue parchments/certificates and statements of attainment for nationally accredited qualifications and units of competency.

Our delivery staff include members of the Health workforce who are practitioners with extensive and current experience in the Health Industry.

Unit Description

Give an understanding of legal obligations for Personal Care staff to safely and effectively assist vulnerable clients with their medication. The training is site-specific and applicable in Residential and Community Care.

This unit applies to workers who assist vulnerable people with medication.

Practical and written outcomes include:

- Infection control
- Duty of care and legal responsibilities
- Guidelines for giving medication
- Forms of medication & administration
- Rights of medication administration

Duration

Duration: 2-hour session that includes theory and practical

Location

AMA Skills Training—Dulwich office

Group Bookings—can be delivered on-site. Minimum booking of 6 participants.

For more information please contact:

COST

$77.00 per person

Group Bookings available—please contact AMA Skills training for pricing.

Training Manager
Level 1, 175 Fullarton Road, Dulwich SA 5065
PO Box 685, Fullarton SA 5063
P: 8361 0162

Email: training@amaskillstraining.org.au
Website: www.amaskillstraining.org.au

RTO No: 40880